Pres. Sends Congress Defense Budget For $60,679,414,690

Message Asserts 'Russia Has Pushed World to Brink Of General War'

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—President Truman today sent congress a $60,679,414,690 defense budget and said Russia's rulers have pushed the world "to the brink of a general war."

The huge requested appropriation is for the United states' own military costs and to help arm its allies.

The message broke down in more detail the military estimates included in Mr. Truman's general budget, sent to congress in January, for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

In a letter to House Speaker Rayburn, accompanying today's estimates, Mr. Truman said: "If the Soviet Union chooses to unleash a general war, the free world must be in a position to stop the attack and strike back decisively and at once at the seats of Soviet power."

"We believe that the best path to peace is through building combined defenses for the free world sufficiently powerful to insure disaster for the aggressors if they launch a new world war."

Breakdown on Funds
The over-all figure was broken down into these sub-totals:

$1,424,839,700 to pay for various projects congress already has authorized.

$56,179,414,600 of "new obligatory authority"—meaning for direct expenditures and for letting of contracts for future payment.

$4,500,000,000 to cover needs "for a large military public works program to be recommended soon for authorization."

Mr. Truman noted that the amount of actual spending proposed for the next 13 months was not changed much from his January estimates. (Actual spending from the treasury may lag far behind appropriations because it takes several years to fill some military contracts.)

Mr. Truman said: "The revised estimate of expenditure for 1951 (the fiscal year ending next June 30) is 19.4 billion dollars, compared to 20 billion carried in the January budget. For fiscal year 1952, expenditures are estimated at 39.5 billion dollars compared to 40 billion carried in the January budget."

In that budget, Mr. Truman sketched a total government spending program for the new fiscal year of $71,594,000,000, including his $40,000,000,000 estimate for military outlays.

Today's request dealt chiefly with appropriations rather than actual spending plans.

The $60,679,414,690 asked compares with the $47,590,608,884 which has been enacted or recommended for the current fiscal year.

Sketching broadly the planned use of the money, Mr. Truman said: "For the army, these funds will equip and maintain 18 divisions plus separate combat and supporting units. The navy, under these recommendations, will maintain an active fleet of 1,161 ships. The Marine Corps will maintain 2 1/2 divisions and other supporting units. The Air Force will continue to build toward 95 war wings."

Of the new funds, he said, about $34,700,000,000 will be used to buy heavy equipment such as ships, planes, tanks, artillery, trucks, ammunition, guided missiles, and electronics. A total of 14.5 billion will be used to buy planes.

Rapid Buildup in Strength

The president asserted: "The funds I am today recommending will carry forward the rapid buildup in military strength upon which our nation embarked when the aggression in Korea showed that the Soviet rulers were willing to push the world to the brink of a general war to get what they want."

"We are building our military threat that confronts us. The war element in this threat is the military strength and military equipment."

Liquidation of RFC Favored By Hoover

Former President For Loans Through Other Agencies

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) should be liquidated, largely because its original purpose has become "submerged in support of risky business."

He said "favoritism and corruption" have been demonstrated in its operation.

Hoover, who recently urged that the RFC be abolished, was to appear before the Senate banking committee to tell the reasons behind his view.

In appearance before the committee, he said: "I believe that the RFC should be liquidated."

"I believe some facilities for loans in the small business field should be continued under other organizations."

Small business loans, the former president said, should be taken over by the federal reserve banks.

Hoover is one of a number of witnesses called by the committee, which is trying to decide what to do about the RFC.

The RFC was created by Congress on Jan. 22, 1932. During Hoover's administration, "to provide emergency financing facilities for financial institutions, to aid in financing agriculture, commerce and industry."

Requirements governing RFC's operations have been relaxed since that time, the former president's statement pointed out.

"As a result," he said, "the institution now undertakes to finance, by so-called loans, almost anything, domestic and sometimes even foreign, on most any terms it pleases."

"In my view, when it enters the non-emergency area of loans in excess of $100,000 its social and economic purpose becomes submerged in support of risky business, and in bailing out creditors on a large scale."

Operation at Loss

"It would appear from the Fulbright hearings that the operation of the RFC for the past four or five years really shows a great loss. I see no reason why the taxpayers' money should be used to subsidize larger peace time business."

"This area of loans in excess of $100,000 is where the great dangers to the nation have occurred. That loans of this character have led to favoritism and corruption has been demonstrated by the exposures of the Fulbright committee. Corruption in government is far wider in effect than corruption in private business. Corruption in business hits only the pockets of employers or owners. Corruption in government affects the pockets of all taxpayers, but far worse, it affects the morals of a people and lowers their respect for government."

Hoover submitted a list of loans the RFC has made to hotels, distillers, brewers, theaters and bowling alleys.

"Another list could be made of loans to beauty parlors, pool houses, etc."

Is Smuggled From Fort

Commandant Says Soldier Given Attention

CHICAGO, April 30—(P)—A father said today he smuggled his sick soldier son out of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., yesterday. He said the young man was unable to get medical attention there.

Today, the soldier, Pvt. Stanley Amborski, 21, was in an armed forces hospital at the naval training center, Great Lake, Ill.

The Amborski's family physician, Dr. Meyer Cohen, diagnosed Stanley's ailment yesterday as peritonitis.

Says Attention Given
In a statement at the camp, Brig. Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis, Jr., commanding general of the Sixth Armored division and the camp, said "the facts are that Private Amborski had received medical attention."

The general also said a check by the Fort Leonard Wood surgeon with the Great Lakes indicates the private does not have peritonitis.

Private Amborski received medical attention five times, Gen. Sturgis' statement pointed out. On April 16, he reported to the dispensary with eye trouble and was referred to the eye clinic at the hospital.

Then he went on sick call four times—April 12, 16, 23 and 27. He complained of a low back pain on April 12, the statement continues and was sent to the x-ray department of the hospital. He was examined by a medical officer April 16, and was sent to physiotherapy. On the 23rd and 27th he was treated for a slight case of diarrhea.

Gen. Sturgis said the soldier's temperature was taken on the 23rd and 27th and found to be normal.

He did not report for sick call Saturday and the corporal of his squad said he received no complaint of illness from Amborski, the general added.

"Private Amborski, of course, is absent without leave," the general said. "His case is being thoroughly investigated and any action taken will depend upon the outcome of this investigation."

The soldier's father, John Amborski, said today.

Uphold Firing Without Trial

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—By a 4 to 1 tie vote, the supreme court today upheld the government's right to fire without a trial federal workers suspected of disloyalty.

The tribunal's action was taken in the case of Dorothy Bailey, who was thrown out of her $8,000-a-year job in the U. S. Employment service on a finding that "reasonable grounds exist" for a belief that she was not loyal to the United States. The finding was made on secret FBI reports never disclosed to her.

May Have Closed Doors Hearing

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—Senators who are going to question Gen. Douglas MacArthur on Far Eastern military and foreign policies decided today to hear him behind closed doors—unless MacArthur requests a public hearing.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) came out of a closed meeting of the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committee to tell reporters the vote to adopt this system was "substantial."

Individual members of Rotary voted support to the proposed school tax increased levy and Co-Chairman Julian H. Bagby and Herb Studer suggested appointment of five members from each civic club in the interest of that proposition.

Ten Killed in Runaway Bus

WEIRTON, W. Va., April 30—(P)—A runaway bus pitched down a mile-long hill yesterday and crashed into a concrete wall, taking the lives of ten persons.

Just before the horrifying smashup, the driver, George Kraina, 35, cried to his church-going passengers: "Hang on everybody! We're going to crash!"

Those were his last words. He was dead when pulled from the twisted wreckage of the bus.

Some of the nine passengers losing their lives were killed outright. Others died a short time afterwards. Of the 65 persons aboard, 46 were injured. At least three, including a child, were reported in critical condition.

Police said there were no eye-witnesses and no indication of how fast the bus was running but one of the uninjured passengers, 14-year old George Studna said: "We must have been going 60 before we hit the wall."

Patrolman Frank Tichich said the bus was proceeding normally near the top of the hill when it suddenly picked up speed. Kraina was unable to stop on the windy hill—so steep that most autos ascend in second gear.

"We don't know yet why the driver could not stop," Tichich continued.

The bus ran about three-quarters of a mile before it came to the bottom of the hill. Tichich said Kraina knew he could not negotiate a sharp left hand turn. He chose to swing to the right and drive onto a residential street.

Just as he turned, the left front end of the bus smashed into the retaining wall.

Embargo Against Red China Is Considered by the U. N.

By Dewitt MacKenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
The ability of the Chinese Communists to stage their massive offensive against the United Nations forces in Korea has stimulated a move among U. N. members to slap a limited embargo on the essential war material for China.

Such an economic blockade, by the way, was one of General Douglas MacArthur's recommendation on which he said the joint chiefs of staff agreed with him. It would, of course, be calculated to have far-reaching effects on China's ability to wage war.

Coincident with this U. N. development, General MacArthur has been urging a "positive and realistic" Korean policy "to stop through strength this slaughter of America's sons."

The United States already has clamped a sweeping embargo on Peiping, and is crusading among other western members of the U. N., to follow suit. Some of them, notably Britain and France, have been finding difficulties in

Rev. Bryan Speaker; Individuals Vote Tax Levy Support

The Rev. David B. Bryan, pastor of the First Christian church, who the speaker today at the noon meeting of the Rotary club. He gave an interesting talk on his recent trip to Europe telling experiences he had in the various countries.

Individual members of Rotary voted support to the proposed school tax increased levy and Co-Chairman Julian H. Bagby and Herb Studer suggested appointment of five members from each civic club in the interest of that proposition.

President K. U. Love then appointed from Rotary Jack Cunningham, Milton Heinlein, E. W. Thompson, Z. Lyle Brown, and Harry Brougher as the Rotary group.

Judson M. Grayson was song leader and the speaker was introduced by the program chairman, Aaron Smith.

The following Rotarians have a perfect attendance record since July 1, 1950: Lawrence Barnett, Emory Bowman, Nolan Bricken, Fred Brink, Harry Brougher, Frank Buchanan, Oscar DeWolfe, Arthur Hoffman, Roy Keller, Fred Koening, D. S. Lamm, Kenneth Love, Harry Nangel, Guy Peabody, Leonard Peabody, W. D. Smith and Ernest Thompson.

Guy Peabody, chairman of the district conference to be held in Warrensburg May 6 and 7, explained the program in detail.

Average of $1,053 At Shorthorn Sale
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 30—(P)—An average of $1,053 was paid for 36 cows and two calves at the annual National Milking Shorthorn Congress sale here Saturday.

The top price of $2,500 was paid by L. M. Brooks of Hope, R. I., to the Lilydale Farm of Springfield for a five-year-old cow, Lilydale Butter Chess.

More than 300 breeders from all parts of the nation attended the sale.

Weak and Nervous
"Oh, what they must have done to him," Mrs. Vogeler said yesterday. "He was such a strong man, and now he is weak as a baby and so nervous. He can't be to have anyone behind him."

"Tired as he was, we had to give him a sedative last night so he could sleep. He can't bring himself to talk about his trial yet. He will say a little about his life in prison after the trial—but nothing about the trial."

Vogeler posed amiably for photographs with his wife and sons, Bobby 11, and Billy 9.

When the photographers asked Vogeler and his wife to "hold that kiss," he grinned and replied: "That's no hardship."

"It's good to see the sky, and grass and trees again," he remarked, "but I'll be even happier when I am back in the United States."

He said he was not certain how soon he would return to America. But he promised son Bobby "when we get back we'll go to a baseball game."

Vogeler disclosed that while in solitary confinement he was forbidden to whistle, hum or even talk aloud to himself.

He gave this detail to U. S. High Commissioner for Australia Walter Donnelly in a conversation overheard while the television cameramen were filming him on the lawn.

"When I tried to talk to myself," Vogeler said, "the guards banged on the door. They did it when I whistled or hummed. I got the idea. So I spent my time walking up and down my cell just whispering, just to hear the sound of my voice."

Reporters who lingered at Vogeler's police-guarded house and small groups of Austrian Sunday strollers saw him come occasionally to the door.

He stood on the porch alone and gazed curiously around. He took deep breaths of the brisk spring air, paused, and then turned back into the house.

Inside, he had his first real meals in 17 months. He chose a simple but sturdy American meal of steak and French fried potatoes for lunch.

In exchange for Vogeler's freedom, the United States agreed to reopen Hungarian consulates in New York and Cleveland, lift the ban on American travel to Hungary, and restore Hungarian property in Western Germany, but not the historic crown of St. Stefan, symbol of the Hungarian monarchy.

Vogeler Starts His Return to United States

Mental Strain Due Confinement is Plainly Evident

LONDON, April 30—(P)—Robert Vogeler arrived by plane tonight with his family en route to the United States. The plane arrived at 8:58 p. m. (2:58 p. m. EST).

Vogeler, released from a Hungarian prison last Saturday, arrived from Frankfurt, Germany.

VIENNA, Austria, April 30—(P)—Robert A. Vogeler and his family left Vienna by plane today for the United States.

The 39-year-old American businessman, released last Saturday after 17 months in a Communist jail in Hungary, was taken to the airport with his family by Ambassador Walter J. Donnelly, U. S. high commissioner in Austria.

With his handsome Belgian-born wife Lucille, her sister Pia, and the Vogeler's two sons, Bobby, 11, and Billy, 9, Vogeler boarded a Pan American Airways plane at Tulln airport, in the Soviet occupied zone of Austria.

The plane took off at 3 p. m. (8 a. m. CST).

Vogeler mustered his shattered strength to deliver what he called "a message" to the American people yesterday before a television camera and microphone. He broke down once but insisted on continuing.

"I am convinced," he said, "that my incident (arrest by Hungarian Communists as a spy and saboteur) is just one of a series of planned attacks on democracy. The American people must be made aware of what can happen. I feel that every individual American should realize that what happened to me can happen to them if we don't all band together to destroy these enemies of individual freedom."

Vogeler was so weak and nervous that that effort that he was forbidden to talk by telephone last night with his father, Willy R. Vogeler, in New York. His wife substituted for him on the telephone while he was put to bed with sedatives.

Today, however, after "a good night's sleep," he was reported "improved."

NBC announced that Vogeler's statement probably would be telecast in the United States tonight or tomorrow.

Although Vogeler presented a good appearance physically, the mental strain of 14 and a half months in solitary confinement since his trial showed plainly.

He gave the appearance of man with a haunting memory and a secret he wished to tell but could not.

Vogeler told newsmen shortly after his release Saturday that both physical and mental pressure were used to obtain his confession before he was tried by a people's court in Budapest. He acknowledged that there was "some truth" in his testimony but said it contained many technical inaccuracies.

Weak and Nervous

Best Victory Chance Be 'Holding Line'
Acheson's Views Are Expressed To U. S. C. of C.

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson today claimed success for the stand this country has taken in Korea and said the best chance of real victory lies in firmly holding to that line.

He explained to the United States Chamber of Commerce that it may be possible there to convince the enemy that "his aggression cannot pay." His claims of success were in that field.

The fighting in the Far East "may spread despite our efforts to limit it," Acheson said, but added:

"If this happens the responsibility for it will rest squarely on the Kremlin and its agents in Peiping."

The secretary spoke from the same platform where Senator Taft (R-Ohio), an outspoken administration critic, was scheduled to follow him shortly.

His audience had up for consideration a resolution endorsing direct negotiations with Russia for world peace. The proposed policy statement, one of dozens to be voted on at the Chamber's 39th annual meeting here, called for a Soviet-American effort to reach "truly effective solutions" not mere paper agreements."

Acheson in his prepared address stayed away from the controversy over Gen. Douglas MacArthur's proposal to adopt new strategy in Korea. He made no mention of Taft or other critics.

He gave this summation of his views:

"If we remain firm and steady on the course we are following in Korea, if we don't flinch or get rattled, we shall have the best chance of bringing this action to a successful conclusion."

Voice Confidence
In Europe, Acheson said sufficient progress has been made to justify confidence that we can build up western strength sufficiently to prevent the Soviet thrust in this direction from achieving its aim.

In Asia, the secretary declared that "a great deal has already been accomplished by the steadyness" with which we have held to our purposes and by the "heroic devotion of our men in Korea." He listed these as gains:

"First, this act of (Communist) aggression has not succeeded according to the Soviet plan, and what other actions were planned have been interfered with."

"Second, the defense against this aggression has served to arouse free men all over the world, and has stimulated them to speed up their efforts to build a strong defense system."

"Third, new vitality has pulsed through the whole idea of collective security against aggression."

"And fourth, this device of satellite aggression has been thoroughly exposed and its usefulness in other situations has been reduced."

After warning that "the fighting may spread despite our efforts to limit it," and might even bring on a world war, Acheson said the possibility remains that it may be brought to an end in Korea.

Taft For Deep Cut
WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) today urged a half million man cut in projected American military forces and a $20,000,000,000 reduction in the mobilization budget—but called for "a more aggressive war in Asia."

The policy of neutralizing Chiang Kai-Shek's forces in Formosa is "complete nonsense," Taft told the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The present fighting, he said, is a "stalemate war" which the American public will, in his view not tolerate indefinitely.

Chinese From North Pushing Toward Seoul

Heavy Artillery Fire Laid Down In the Path of The Red Tide

By Olen Clements
TOKYO, April 30—(P)—Allied artillery laid an explosive curtain of fire before Seoul today in the path of a gathering Red army intent on seizing the old South Korean capital as a May Day prize.

United Nations forces arrayed before the war-shattered city fired 45,709 rounds of artillery Sunday.

The booming echo of massed artillery implemented the announcement of Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Allied ground commander, that Seoul would be defended.

Chinese Communists poured down from the north for a mass assault. Airmen spotted 3,363 Red vehicles moving along the western front. Twenty thousand Communists were reported gathered as shock troops for the assault.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Hoover Boosts Gov. Warren of California as Next President

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — Republican leaders in the Senate have not been too happy about General MacArthur's talk with Herbert Hoover. It began when they were not able to get MacArthur on the telephone in Tokyo, and later learned that the general had several phone conversations with Hoover. Later, in Washington, their approaches to MacArthur about politics were politely ignored.

The suspicion has prevailed, therefore, that MacArthur and the ex-president have been discussing politics at the Waldorf tower in New York.

Such, however, has not been the case. Hoover did approach MacArthur as to whether he was interested in politics, but got an unqualified negative.

Hoover then gave MacArthur his own ideas about the Republican candidate for the presidency in 1952 and went all out for Governor Earl Warren of California. Hoover unhesitatingly described Warren as the best qualified man on the entire GOP political horizon. Not given much to enthusiasm, Hoover almost waxed enthusiastic about Governor Warren.

Note—Warren, who ran for vice-president on the Dewey ticket in 1948, has been almost as popular with Democrats as with Republicans, and unlike Taft, would probably get some labor backing in a national election.

MacArthur and Ridgway
Though General MacArthur is now quoting three-star Lt. Gen. Matt Ridgway to back up his case, the inside fact is that MacArthur quietly tried to knife Ridgway's promotion to be a full-four-star general.

As a result to MacArthur's subtle opposition, the new supreme commander is no higher in military rank than six of his subordinate admirals and generals in the Far East. However, the joint chiefs of staff are now rushing a four star and the rank of full general for Ridgway.

Several weeks ago, the joint chiefs recommended Ridgway for promotion from lieutenant general to full general, and, as a matter of routine, cabled MacArthur for his approval. But instead of giving an endorsement, MacArthur simply ignored the Ridgway cable.

Two weeks later, the joint chiefs cabled MacArthur again, reminding him that he was holding up Ridgway's promotion. However, MacArthur let the matter stew another two weeks. Then instead of agreeing to an unqualified promotion, MacArthur recommended that Lt. Gen. George Stratemeyer, air force commander, and Vice Adm. Turner Joy, naval commander, also be promoted to the same rank, along with Ridgway.

This temporarily prevented anyone from being promoted, because the joint chiefs were not ready to award fourth stars to Stratemeyer and Joy. It also kept Ridgway, whose success in Korea has aroused jealousy in the MacArthur camp, from becoming—at that time—the second ranking commander in the Far East.

Note—Besides Stratemeyer and Joy, here are the other officers in the Far East who now have the same rank as Supreme Commander Ridgway—Lieutenant General James Van Fleet, Frank Milburn, John Coulter, Edward Almond and Vice Adm. Harold Martin.

Harassing the Sun
An appropriation for harassing the sun's heat in Arizona, New Mexico and Southern California is now being debated in a House Appropriations subcommittee.

The project, pioneered by the Smithsonian Institution, would use giant mirrors in our southwest deserts to catch the sun's rays and convert them into power. If successful, it would transform the now sparsely populated southwest into one of the great industrial areas of the nation.

Dr. Charles G. Abbot, a pioneer in solar radiation at the Smithsonian laboratory, has two devices which he says will produce nearly 1,000,000 horsepower per square mile. He has also mapped out a 150,000-square-mile area in the southwest, which has cloudless skies 70 to 90 per cent of the time, and which is the ideal location for the huge mirrors and converters.

To finance some of the initial experimentation, the Smithsonian Institution is asking Congress for $102,751, but word has leaked out that even this small amount will be cut back because of the economy drive.

"If only one-tenth of our desert area were devoted to power production," Dr. Abbott claims, "more than 20 times as much power could be produced from solar energy as is used for all heating, lighting, transportation and manufacturing in the U. S."

Note—The question of sun power is now in the hands of a House subcommittee, headed by able Congressman Albert Thomas of Houston, Tex.

Soviet-Chinese Conference
The present Chinese attack in Korea was preceded by a series of top-secret Red Russian-Red Chinese conferences in Mukden, at which the Chinese demanded a long list of arms from Moscow.

The meetings were attended by Chinese Dictator Mao Tse-Tung, Soviet Armed Forces Minister Vasilievsky, and his deputies. Mao, according to reports reaching Washington, demanded Russian planes, heavy artillery, tanks and troops to replace previous heavy losses. In the end, however, he had to accept the following:

1. The Soviet would provide 10 trained and equipped divisions from the satellite state of Mongolia, plus Japanese troops captured in 1946, plus a limited number of Russian technicians.

2. The Soviet would turn over 100 jet planes and train 1,000 jet pilots. In addition, Russia's armament boss, Ustinov, and his artillery counterpart, Voronov, agreed to deliver heavy tanks and guns, but would not put down a specific figure.

The talks began in February and have been held off and on through early April. The plan back of this drive was tipped off by one of the participants, General Chen of the first field army, who is also mayor of Shanghai. He told the Shanghai people's council that the Chinese would force the U. N. to its knees militarily, then bargain for peace.

KILLER'S PACE

BY JULIUS LONG

STAR WILLIAMS had a pack of some kind on his left eye and I could see by the skin around the edges that he had a beautiful shiner. He looked up and groaned. "You better read over the World Wide reports." He handed them to me. "Paul Waltz is coming in shortly."

The first item concerned Carl Prater's movements. He had visited Dave Grafton's office and had later followed him to a restaurant where his dinner companion had been J. J. McNamara, the criminal lawyer. Afterwards Prater had gone to police headquarters, left after about five minutes and gone to a movie. He returned to headquarters afterwards and remained there till I showed up.

The second report was on Frankie Martin, nee Abigail Grunch. There were measurements which all added up meant she was a slim blonde of medium height. She had a brother, Nathaniel Grunch, a barber in Columbus, Ohio, and a sister Mabel. "Frankie Martin was murdered," I told Star. "There's a confession floating around, Sonya says."

"At least there was one," Star's smile broadened, till he winced from pain from his shiner. "While we're waiting for Waltz, here are the names of two business partners in Vallejo, upstate. I want you to interview these men—ask them if they ever knew a chorist girl named Frankie Martin. They'll answer 'No.'"

The names on the paper were David D. Brayton and George Esplin.

"If you know the answer, why send me 100 miles to ask the question?"

"Never mind why. It's a very important assignment."

About all that resulted from Paul Waltz's visit was a decision to take the tail off Carl Prater. It had paid dividends in showing that Prater lied about driving around after he saw me at the Bidault place after the LaGrange shooting, but Star said it was no longer necessary. Then Star gave me expense money for the trip to Vallejo.

As I started to go, I said: "This wild goose chase is your idea, not mine. If you never find out who killed Barney Bidault, don't blame me."

Star's brows lifted in some astonishment. "I've found out who killed old Barney, all right. Now hurry to Vallejo and maybe you'll be back in time for the arrest."

MR. BRAYTON and Mr. Esplin I ran a funeral parlor in Vallejo. Mr. Brayton acted as if he were going to drop dead and Mr. Esplin was cool, but neither had ever heard of a La Jolla Club chorist girl named Frankie Martin. Then I stopped at a florist shop and spent 20 bucks of my expense money for flowers for a character named Jeff Wingfield, who was living in state at the parlor. I had Star Williams' name put on the card.

I drove 80 miles homeward without a beer, but enough to get through. It was 5:30, and I'd made good time when I pulled off at a wayside bar. My coat was off by then, as well as my shoes. I pulled on the latter, but the coat was too much. As I reached down to tie my shoes I saw the 380 in its holster. As an afterthought I removed the gun and stuck it into my trouser pocket. It wouldn't go all the way in till I stood up out of the car. I reached my wallet from my inside coat pocket to my hip pocket and went in for that long overdue beer.

It was a cheery, cool place, with a cute barmaid. I had just finished my beer and my eyes fell on a copy of an afternoon paper lying upon the bar.

The banner headline said a warrant for Star's arrest had been issued on a charge of tampering with state's evidence and procuring a verdict by fraud.

My picture also was in the paper, and the Fountain Parkway shooting was treated separately from the news about Star. I also noticed a small item about an attempted burglary at the office of the Prater company. The watchman had been knocked unconscious several minutes but apparently nothing was missing.

"I swung and caught him a good one in the eye," said the watchman, Meryle M. Sprague, 61, "then he hit me with a blackjack. He said he could identify his attacker, although the light was bad."

I HAD a good laugh. I wondered if Star Williams really had used a blackjack. At least I knew where he had gotten his shiner.

"Who ya laughin' at, buddy?" The character, a newcomer, was on a bar stool a few feet away.

"The funny papers, pal. You mind?" "Yeah, I mind!" The character moved drunkenly toward me. He was medium-sized, but hard-looking.

The cute barmaid said: "No trouble, mister. Go on back and sit down!"

"Nobody laughs at me! I'm gonna show this punk a lesson!"

I saw that he wasn't just talking. I slipped off my stool just in time. The character almost caught me with his first one, for it came with a professional speed I hadn't counted on. I knew then it was no drunk pitching punches at me, and I knew I was in for something really serious. I heard a movement behind me and then I edged out, away from the bar grabbing my empty bottle as I did so. I was just in time.

I recognized at once the man who had come in back of me. It was the man who had driven the truck in Fountain Parkway and who had visited my apartment with Nanabarro and company the night before.

And the Drivers Were Not Hurt!

Lady Luck managed to be in two places at once—Cleveland, O., and Washington, D. C.—for which two motorists are very thankful. The car of Navy Lt. Galen Eaholtz, of Washington, swerved off Memorial Highway near the capital, and crashed into a grove of trees. Photo at left, above, shows how impact crushed the front of the auto, ripped the motor out from under the hood and hurled it across the road. But Lieutenant Eaholtz was not injured. In Cleveland, John Magielnicki, 31-year-old Erie Railroad brakeman, was driving home when he was stopped by a Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad crossing barrier. While he waited, his car was rammed from behind by another car and driven under the crossing gate into the side of a passing freight train. Magielnicki's car was dragged 20 feet and wedged into a four-foot culvert beside the roadbed. Each freight car that passed slammed into its left side. In moments it was aflame. The terrified driver tried to crawl out of the right-hand door but it was blocked by the arm of the crossing gate. He threw his six-foot, 215-pound body against the door and finally forced it open enough to get out. Badly shaken, but unhurt, he walked away from his mangled auto. All the time, the driver of the car that caused the accident sat stolidly in his auto, watching.

The Doctor Says— Theory Fits Ulcer Victims Into One Kind of Personality

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Bill R. is a lawyer. Last summer his son went into the Marines and in the fall was sent to Korea. At about the same time a "friend" for whom he had signed a note skipped, leaving Bill with a considerable financial obligation. In the fall, too, he had several difficult law cases which worried him more than usual. By early November Bill was having trouble with his stomach. He went to the doctor who tested him, took X-rays and told him he had an ulcer. This kind of story goes on, all the time, many people showing the first signs of ulcer when they are going through a period of great nervous and emotional strain. But this isn't all. Once a person has an ulcer the symptoms practically always get worse whenever things go wrong.

A quarrel, a difficult interview, a long period of strenuous work, will bring on an ulcer or make one. Unobtrusively public accountants have more trouble between January 1 and March 1 than at other times of the year. Now-adays some of the rest of us are more than ever likely to have the same experience.

The close relationship between the nerves and ulcers is well known and generally accepted by the medical profession even though exactly how it all works is not entirely clear. Some students of the disease have even built up a kind of personality into which most ulcer victims fit.

The potential ulcer sufferer, this theory goes, is ambitious, hard working, finds it hard to relax and is likely to hold down several jobs at once. He (or she) tends to drive himself hard and his good qualities are much admired though he runs more risk than the less strenuously constituted individual.

Up To You

Most of us can't change our personalities, and if we are worriers or work under tension that is the way we are likely to remain. This kind of person will not always get an ulcer, but is more likely to than those with calmer dispositions.

But if an ulcer should come there is a real problem in fighting these nervous and emotional problems which interfere so much with complete recovery. The patient is the only one who can do much about it.

Here more pure water will be condensed and the minerals reduced to make a variety of by-products such as salt, iodine, magnesium and bromine. Le Vesque expects that commercial interests will want to underwrite the operation of the plant for the by-products alone.

What about the $20,000,000 needed to build the plant? Le Vesque sees the federal government as the one source who could finance that.

Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, kept a room in Washington cool during oppressive summer heat by an installation involving large blocks of ice in the attic.

NO SOLITARY SENTRY HE—The guard of honor at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington Cemetery, Washington, attracts a bevy of young sightseers who trot alongside and keep him company as he paces back and forth. The smartly dressed G.I. manages to maintain his soldierly bearing in spite of the good-natured distraction.

"Dad, you've been a city councilman for a long time! How come the Kefauver committee never quizzed you?"

• Q's and A's

Q—What percentage of pure metal is used in the making of American coins?

A—American coins are made of alloys so that the metal is harder and will wear longer. Dimes, quarters and halves are of 90 per cent silver and 10 per cent copper. The famed nickel is only 25 per cent nickel and 75 per cent copper. Cents are 95 per cent copper with the other 5 per cent of tin and zinc.

Q—Are there tigers in Africa?

A—There are no tigers in Africa except in captivity. Tigers are native only to eastern and southern Asia and the adjacent islands.

Q—Who was Carmen Sylva?

A—Carmen Sylva was the pen name of Elizabeth, former queen of Romania.

Q—What calendar is used by the Eastern Orthodox Churches in calculating the date of Easter?

A—The Eastern Orthodox Churches, unwilling to accept orders from Rome, still cling to the old Julian Calendar in calculating the date of Easter. Other Christian denominations in computing the Easter date use the calendar as revised in the 16th century by Pope Gregory XIII.

Q—How long since the United States has fought a war with the Indians?

A—The Battle of Wounded Knee Creek, South Dakota, December 29, 1890, ended all Indian wars for the United States.

Q—Is there a quick method by which you can tell a dog from a wolf?

A—Yes, by the shape of their eyes. The pupil of a dog's eye is round, but that of a wolf is oblique.

Q—What was the historical event referred to in Browning's famous poem, "How They Brought the Good News From Ghent to Aix?"

A—There is no historical event connected with this poem. Browning himself stated that it was purely an imaginary incident.

Q—In how many languages does the Voice of America broadcast?

A—In 29 languages; the last added were Portuguese and the Swatow dialect of China.

'Sister Eileen' Tuesday Night

Playhouse Will Present it at the S-C High School

The incredible adventures of two girls from Columbus, Ohio who come east to conquer New York will be taking over the stage of the Smith-Cotton auditorium Tuesday night when the Sedalia Community Playhouse production of the Broadway laugh hit, "My Sister Eileen" opens a two-performance engagement. The show will be repeated Wednesday night. This is the comedy about Ruth and her sister Eileen, whose basement apartment in Greenwich Village is invaded by all kinds of unlikely people—from a sizable segment of the Brazilian navy to the artistic landlord named Mr. Appopolous.

Bettye Ellsworth

Appopolous, having rented to the hapless sisters a sub-street level den which he calls a "studio," subsequently is too concerned with his "art show" to help the girls to repel the mysterious moisture that forms on the basement walls, or to put a shade on the window through which passers-by can and do—peek in. As for the blasting for a new subway under their floor, and the unexpected arrival of the Brazilian navy, they are only a fraction of the hilarious events that keep Ruth and Eileen on the run!

"My Sister Eileen," which ran for 866 performances in New York alone, is another successful collaboration by Jerome Chodorov and Joseph Fields, authors of that record-breaking hit called "Junior Miss." The writers based their latest comedy on Ruth McKenney's New Yorker magazine stories, which recounted—and only slightly exaggerated—her own experiences in the Big City.

Mrs. Ben Klein

Louise Klein will be seen in the Playhouse production of "My Sister Eileen," as the razor-witted member of the sister team, and Bettye Ellsworth will play the more attractive Eileen. Other leading roles have been assigned to Larry Riley, Bill Wilson, Jim Green, Anita Self, John Erickson and Harold Barrick.

The play is directed by Frank Evans, assisted by Lucille Stephenson.

Correspondent For Democrat 50 Years

It was 50 years ago in April that Mrs. Amanda Close, 907 South Lamine, first became a correspondent for the Sedalia Democrat. Mrs. Close lived at that time in Valda and sent in any items she could gather to the paper just because she liked to do it. One April day, 50 years ago a man who was a correspondent for the Democrat at Dumpville, which is no longer in existence but which was located between Valda and Spring Fork, was in Valda and Mrs. Close asked him what kind of paper he used to send in his items. He told her that he was furnished paper and for her to go to the Sedalia Democrat and ask if they would put her on as a correspondent. This she did. She was given the job stationery for the items and a subscription to the paper and has since been a correspondent.

When Mrs. Close moved to Sedalia she just kept right on with her items, sending in everything she could find around town and she is still on the job. Every week she sends in a list of items and often telephones some in, in between times. She hasn't changed a bit in the 50 years, she still likes to send in items to the Democrat.

Embargo Against Red China is Considered By the U. N.

her neighbor into the Communist fold in due course. New Delhi doesn't feel like challenging Red China at this juncture.

Pakistan, British Malaya, Ceylon, Singapore, and the crown colony of Hong Kong are among other places in the picture. Naturally trade figures in the picture, but so does the defensive importance of strategic bases like Singapore and Hong Kong. And the Chinese Reds are right up against the border of Hong Kong.

Britain takes the attitude that she doesn't want to embark on such a project as the embargo unless it can be made effective. She feels that the good offices committee of the U. N. should try to persuade Red China to stop fighting.

The trouble with such a program is that American, British, French and other U. N. soldiers will be sacrificing their lives while "persuasion" is tried. Even if sanctions are voted by the U. N., it will take some time before they can be made effective.

The great need now is for speed in such positive action as would be represented in the application of sanctions.

Autos Collide Near Smithton

No injuries were suffered in an accident just east of the Smithton east junction on highway 50 about 9:40 p. m. Sunday when two cars collided. Ralph Gargus, Pekin, Ill., driver of one car was arrested by the State Patrol for careless driving.

Tough But Pleasant Work To Be A Kilgore Rangerette

By Harold V. Ratliff

KILGORE, Tex., April 30—(P)—Come fall and the Kilgore Rangerettes, whose short skirts, white boots, feminine charms and precision drills have made them nationally famous, will cavort far and wide for the twelfth year.

It's quite different from what Gussie Nell Davis had in mind when she organized the Kilgore college unit in September 1940. "We started the Rangerettes as a local proposition—to give color to our football games and to attract girls to Kilgore college," she says.

But the Rangerettes caught on immediately. Came the war and they got into bond selling and other activities. They became known everywhere and in 1946 they pranced in the Rose Bowl. That brought on a lot of travel and a world of publicity for this oil-rich town in deep east Texas.

The Rangerettes have been in the Sugar Bowl, the Cotton Bowl, at big conventions, at Rodeos and what have you.

Not a day passes but at least one request comes in for their appearance somewhere. Some days there will be a dozen. They'll go most anywhere. All they ask is for their expenses to be guaranteed.

There are 53 girls in the Rangerettes—48 in the "line" and five officers. The group is not allowed to get any larger although the pressure is something awful.

"There's crying and arguing and the girls and their parents even work on the president of the college," Miss Davis explains, "but we have a plan that is absolutely fool proof. The girls get in through ability and good looks only."

Of course, they must be pretty and have well-rounded figures but they must have intelligence, too, to march with the Rangerettes. Each must have a "C" average in her studies and no girl is allowed in the Rangerettes more than two years.

They go to all athletic contests of the college unless they are so far away the cost is excessive and they can't make the trip in a single day. The college pays expenses of these trips.

Thrown In "Pep" Squad
Miss Davis, who answers to the name of Gus, was lured away from Greenville high school in 1939 by B. E. Masters, president of Kilgore college. At Greenville she had won renown with a girl pep squad called the flaming flames. Dr. Masters thought the ratio of six boys to one girl at Kilgore college was too large. He felt that a girls organization such as the flaming flames would attract more woman students. It certainly did. Now there are four boys to one girl.

For five months Gussie Nell worked on the type uniform that would be used. Earl Ford, Jr., an architect, painted a picture of the model Rangerette. It still is required study for new members.

Gauntlets and belts came from Wichita Falls, hats from Dallas, blue skirts and red blouses from Fort Worth and from Chicago came especially designed white parade boots.

Gussie Nell got L. N. Crim, an oil man, theater owner and fire works hobbyist to sponsor the Rangerettes. She borrowed Knox Lamb, Crim's illegitimate son, to make a huge fireworks set, and on the night of the first football game in 1940, the Rangerettes marched.

Miss Davis was as nervous as a kitten as the fireworks display came on. It spelled out "Rangerettes" in three colors. Then the field lights were turned on and the girls went through their tricky routine. The way the crowd whooped, Gussie Nell knew Kilgore college had hit the jackpot.

It's a pleasure but it's tough too, to be a member of the Rangerettes. One routine, done with pompons, calls for 40 different steps in flawless unison.

In bad weather they come out with plastic umbrellas to the music of "I don't care if the sun don't shine" and in midfield put on short plastic raincoats, do their dance and wind up in a huddle under a big ball made of their umbrellas. The field lights go off and the girls turn on flashlights.

Each year the girls learn about 15 different routines. Their current hit is the Charleston, performed for the first time in the Cotton Bowl last Jan. 1.

There usually are about 150 girls trying for the 50 to 60 vacancies created each year by graduation and marriage. Tryouts are held the second and third nights of registration and are open to the public. Miss Davis wants to find out quickly which girls cannot perform before an unfamiliar audience.

After the "line" is filled, tryouts are held for the five officer positions. The audience selects these from them Miss Davis makes her one choice—she picks the captain.

This year the captain is Judy Basden of Dallas. She also was captain last year. She is the only girl ever to hold this position twice.

The girls are taught figure control and development, posture improvement and there is heavy emphasis on poise.

Except for death in the family, there are no excuses for absence from the daily noon rehearsal.

Miss Davis says the Rangerettes are good in the class room. "We have a dozen to Twenty Phi Beta Kappas every year," she proudly relates.

And there never is any trouble—no petty jealousies, no back biting.

"I just don't put up with it," says Miss Davis.

"The only trouble I have is

Heads Missouri AAUW Division

Miss Willie Whitson, Kirksville, was elected president of the Missouri Division of the American Association of University Women, at its biennial convention in Cape Girardeau, Saturday, April 28.

Miss Willie Whitson

She is a professor of child development at Northeast Missouri State Teachers college, and has served as first vice-president of the Missouri Division of AAUW, on the state board of education and membership chairman, and is a former president of the Kirksville branch. She is also state president of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary education fraternity.

Other officers elected were Miss Chole Millikan, Maryville, getting the girls away from the boys for practice. Hand-holding is quite popular. It really isn't trouble, though; it makes the girls happy, the boys like it, and a happy girl is a better performer."

Jubilee For Father Divine

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—Father Divine—revered as "God" by his followers—is celebrating five years of marriage to his "white spotless virgin bride."

The self-proclaimed Negro deity, leader of an inter-racial religious organization, reigns over elaborate festivities which started yesterday and continue today.

Joining in the wedding anniversary jubilee are more than 2,500 adherents, of all races and creeds, from many parts of the world. Other celebrations are being held in Father Divine peace missions in this country and abroad.

It is a time of lavish banqueting as well as a rejoicing. In their rapture, believers shout and sing and some of them are so moved they faint. They dine with similar fervor, too, at this "marriage feast of the lamb." Sunday's eating lasted all day, and hundreds of courses were served. A like abundance of food will be set before the "heavenly" guests again today.

Father Divine says he is ageless, claims he was not born in any ordinary way. But outside the fold, he is thought to be over 80. His bride, pretty and blonde, is 26. Her husband speaks of her as "mother."

Smith Pitches Blues to a Win Over Windsor

Young Hurler Allows 7 Hits; Walters Homers

The Teen-Age Blues posted the first victory of the 1951 baseball season Sunday afternoon at Housel park as they downed the Windsor Junior Legion 8-4 behind the seven hit pitching of ace righthander C. A. Smith. The game was played as a benefit for the Pettis county cancer drive, with all proceeds from the game being given to that fund.

Smith scattered six singles and one two-bagger during the nine innings, not allowing the Henry county crew over one run in any inning. In the third frame Walter Walters powered one of Thomas' offerings high over the left field fence for a home run. Walters is the Blues' centerfielder.

Bill Watson paced the locals at bat with a triple and a double to his credit in five trips to the plate. Mitchell led the visitors with four safeties in five trips. Windsor took an early lead as Young, their leadoff man, was safe on an error. He went to second on a passed ball and Mitchell's base knock scored him from second. The Teen-Agers fought back and took the lead in the bottom half of the initial stanza with Walters walking, Lees singling to center and both scoring on an error by the Windsor centerfielder.

Windsor Tied Score in Third Windsor tied the count in the top of the third on singles by Young and Mitchell and a stolen base, with Young scoring. In the third the Sedalians went ahead to stay as Walters led off with his home run. Lees walked, Joe Walters singled sending Lees to third and White singled to left scoring Lees.

Windsor picked up another counter in the fourth as Hollonback was safe on an infield error. Waisner singled and Hollonback went to third. He scored a moment later on another infield bobbie.

The locals clinched the contest in the sixth as pitcher Smith was safe on an error. Don Higgins fouled out. Watson followed with a double which sent Smith scooting home. Walters grounded to second but Eldon Lees kept the rally alive with his second safety, which scored Watson.

Windsor scored again in the sixth but the Blues came back with two more in the bottom of the eighth on one hit, an error and a walk.

Smith Fanned 11 Smith struck out 11 Windsor batsmen, while Thomas and Hollonback each fanned two Blues for Windsor.

More College Cage Players Are Indicted

Indictments Name 12 Players Allegedly Received $40,750

NEW YORK, April 30—(P)—Thirteen indictments charging the fixing of college basketball games were returned today by a New York county grand jury.

The indictments named 12 college players.

The 13th was a superseding indictment against Salvatore T. Sollazzo, jeweler and the alleged fixmaster accused of bribing players to juggle game scores.

The indictments were returned to general sessions judge Jacob Gould Schurman, about three months after the scope of the alleged bribery scandal first was exposed.

(The superseding indictment against Sollazzo replaces a previous one handed up against him.)

Sollazzo Named With Gard In the first indictment, Sollazzo is named with Edward Gard, former Long Island university player. It charges 29 counts of bribery involving $26,500 and one count of conspiracy.

Sollazzo has been held without bail since his arrest in February, and Gard has been kept in protective custody of police at a hotel by his own request.

The other players named have been at liberty in bail. These include:

Alvin Roth, former City College of New York player, accused on three counts of receiving bribes totaling $3,500, and one count of conspiracy.

Five ARIU Players Edward R. Lian, City College player, named on four bribery counts involving $3,500, and one conspiracy count.

Edward L. Warner, City College player, named on five bribery counts involving $4,000, and a conspiracy count.

Floyd G. Lavne, City College player, named on four bribery counts involving $2,750 and one of conspiracy.

Le Roy Smith, Long Island university, four counts of receiving bribes totaling $2,750, and one of conspiracy.

Adolph Bigos, LIU, seven counts of receiving bribes totaling $7,750, and one of conspiracy.

Sherman White, LIU, six counts of receiving bribes totaling $6,750 and one of conspiracy.

Nathan Miller, LIU, one count of receiving bribes totaling $1,000 and one of conspiracy.

Gard, LIU, three counts of receiving bribes totaling $3,000 and one of conspiracy. This is in addition to the indictment in which he is accused with Sollazzo.

Harvey (Connie) Schaff, New York university, two counts of offering bribes and one of conspiracy. No amount is specified, but he is alleged to have tried to persuade others to throw games.

Richard Feurtado, LIU, four counts of receiving bribes totaling $4,000 and one of conspiracy.

Louis Lipman, LIU, one count of receiving a $1,000 bribe, and one of conspiracy.

Cover 1950-51 Season The indictments cover the 1950-51 season, and list a total of $40,750 which the 12 players allegedly received.

The charges do not mention alleged fixes in the 1949-51 season, nor do they cover alleged bribes by another accused fixmaster, Eli Kay, arrested in Miami last Saturday.

A conspiracy count carries a penalty of one to three years in prison.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said that the grand jury has not yet acted concerning three other players under arrest. They are Norman Mager, Herbert Cohen and Irwin Dambrot, all of City College.

Giants in the Worst Losing Streak Ever

With Brecheen On Mound St. Louis Beats Cubs 6-3

By Joe Reichler Associated Press Sports Writer It no longer is a question of where the Giants will finish. Flabbergasted fans now are asking — will they finish?

Thunderstruck by the club's 11th consecutive defeat — yes, the Giants lost again yesterday — New York fandom is wondering what Leo Durocher is going to do next.

Just picture the Giants' plight today. The situation is almost unbelievable. This is the bally-Giants, the club a majority of experts picked on opening day to win the flag. Now, two weeks later, Durocher's "my kind of club" is wallowing deep in the basement in danger of dropping out of sight completely.

The end is not yet in sight. Already in the midst of the third worst losing streak in the club's history, the dispirited Giants must face the relentless Dodgers in Brooklyn again tonight.

The Brooks have won all five clashes between these arch interborough rivals. Two more losses would equal the Giants' longest losing streak. They dropped 13 straight in 1902 and 1944.

It was not until the sixth inning yesterday that the Dodgers broke up a 2-2 deadlock with a 3-run uprising to pave the way for their 6-3 victory.

Larry Jansen, who started so well with the opening day shut-out win, was the loser. A bad case of "homemites" proved his downfall. The first of Duke Snider's two homers put the Dodgers in front, 1-0, in the fourth. After the Giants had gone ahead, 2-1, on a homer by Bobby Thomson, the Brooks drew even in the fifth and went ahead in the next round when Gil Hodges blasted his round tripper with Jackie Robinson aboard.

Snider's second solo blast came in the seventh off Dave Koslo. Erskine, although routed in the seventh, was credited with his first victory.

The victory put the Brooks into a three-way tie for first place with Boston and St. Louis. The Braves divided a doubleheader with Philadelphia. They won the opener, 1-0, although held to two hits by Jocko Thompson. The Phils overcame a six-run first inning by Boston to win the second game, 10-9.

Brecheen Wins For "Cards" Harry Brecheen held the Cubs to six hits in Chicago to win his second game as the Cardinals pounded out a 6-3 triumph. Enos Slaughter drove in three St. Louis runs with a double and two singles.

Pittsburgh climaxed an uphill battle, beating Cincinnati, 9-8, in the opener of a doubleheader that went 13 innings. The second game ended in a 1-1 ten-inning tie called because of the Pennsylvania curfew law. Doubles by Pete Castiglione and George Metkovich won the opener in the 13th after Ralph Kiner's homer had tied the score at 9-9 in the ninth.

The lowly St. Louis Browns stunned the Cleveland Indians by sweeping both ends of their doubleheader in St. Louis, 6-3 and 13-11, to drop the Tribe into a first place tie with Washington.

The Senators backed into their share of the lead, accepting a penalty of one to three years in prison.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said that the grand jury has not yet acted concerning three other players under arrest. They are Norman Mager, Herbert Cohen and Irwin Dambrot, all of City College.

Must Have Been Confusing It isn't Lefty Gomez spinning yarns this time, its George MacDonald, supervisor of minor league ump's, telling one on Lefty. When Gomez managed the Birmingham (NY) Triplets a few years ago, there were some confusing ground rules at the park because of paper mache figures projecting from signs on the fences. ... Ump MacDonald called on Lefty to explain them and Gomez began: "See that canoe out there in centerfield?" ... MacDonald looked and couldn't see it. Finally he suggested that Gomez put on his glasses and look again. ... Lefty did, and George nearly split his sides laughing. The "canoe" on the sign was an oversize hot dog.

Corn Planting Rates Vital

Correct Balance Of Fertilizer Is Very Important

The importance of proper corn planting rates is so great that repetition is justified, says the County Extension office.

Money spent for fertilizer pays dividends quickly provided the right quantity of the correct balance is used and the rate of planting is correct.

Too thin planting where all the needed ingredients are supplied results in low yields. Too thick planting on low fertility soil or soil with low water capacity may reduce yields even to the point of failure to produce yields.

High organic matter soils of medium texture are less subject to drought conditions and can be planted at a higher rate more safely than can sandy soils, heavy clays, and badly eroded soils.

Since experimental work shows ears weighing around one-half pound give the highest corn yields it would require 7,000 stalks of a one-eared variety producing ears of this size to produce 50 bushels of corn per acre, 10,500 to produce 75 bushels, 14,000 to produce 100 bushel yields and eight inch spacing in the rows for 125 bushel yields.

The field crops specialists of the extension service of the University of Missouri, say before increasing the planting rate much you should have a soil test made to determine the fertility level of the soil. This plus the fertilizer you add should set the maximum safe rate of planting. The practical rate of planting can then be determined by the soil texture, water holding capacity, and organic matter content of the soil, and water conservation measures you follow.

Vegetable Planting Is Off Schedule

Due to the late season vegetable planting is off schedule.

Clyde Cunningham, extension horticulturist to the local extension office, suggests the following due to these conditions. Plant beans, sweet corn, spinach, lettuce, carrots, mustard, beets, onions, kale, cabbage, radishes and okra. He suggests omitting peas and cut the rate of planting of Irish potatoes to half. The loss of these vegetables can be made up by increasing the amount of such vegetables as green and lima beans, and later on by planting more sweet potatoes.

Mr. Cunningham suggests if you want fresh vegetables all summer long you plant small amounts of the vegetables every ten days or so from now until it gets too late in the season.

Dog's Life Has Its Points
IRONVILLE, Pa.—(P)—Freedom means a lot today to "Sass," a two-year-old mongrel dog. "Sass" survived 31 days imprisonment in a nine-inch roadside drainage pipe.

He'd probably be there yet if a passerby hadn't finally heard his weak yelps and dug him out. "Sass" was in bad condition but he recovered quickly on a diet of warmed raw eggs and milk six times daily, as ordered by his veterinarian. Now he's back to a normal dog's life once again.

Mystery Farm Pictures in Central Missouri---

Is this your farm? Most of the readers of the Democrat-Capital have been following this series of the weekly Mystery Farm pictures with considerable interest. The pictures that appear in this space in Monday's Democrat and Tuesday morning's Capital were taken sometime ago by an aerial photographer. The pictures were not shot with the knowledge of whose farm it was. It was a random job: a picture here and a picture there.

Timely Notes on Balanced Farming in Pettis County

Another new member has been added to the Balanced Farming Association. He is William H. Lowrance of Kansas City. Mr. Lowrance's 120 acre farm is located about 4 miles north of Windsor and he has already made plans to build several terrace outlets on it this year. Paul Gregory will operate this tract in addition to his own farm.

Noticed a good stand of grass on a terrace outlet on the former Ira Maxwell farm 4 miles west of Green Ridge. A Mr. Combs is the new owner.

Those making the pasture tour April 20th saw fine stands of grass and clover at Henry Ault's and Dyer-Wiskur. Ault's was orchard grass and ladino while fescue and ladino was seen at the other stop. Both these stands were spring seeded, one with a nurse crop and one without. Because of the wet summer this proves nothing except that in 1950 spring seedings were better than fall ones. Some fine new alfalfa was also seen at Dyer's.

The stand of brome grass at Turner's seems to be thickening and the ladino is already fine there.

Two nice stands of fescue and ladino were also seen last week at Olen Monsees' south of Smithton. One of these could have been grazed and the dairy herd was already obtaining some pasture on the other.

Mr. Paul Cornelison, Extension Dairyman who helped with the Pasture Tour April 20th reported that on his own farm they had grazing fescue this spring 3 weeks ahead of rye. "Of course," he said, "that pasture was not grazed last fall and that is something that can be done when you have an abundance of pasture."

A fine stand of 2nd year sweet clover and an addition to the dairy cow loafing barn were seen at William J. Ficken's also south of Smithton. Several terrace outlets were checked, the location of a new silo was discussed and plans are being made to renovate some permanent pasture.

A new pond was recently constructed on the Dennis Raabe farm east of Springfield. They also have been doing some remodeling in the house and have dug a new well. They were lucky in obtaining adequate water at slightly over 100 feet in depth.

A total of 15 soil samples have been tested this month for Tom Yeater, Dick Shelton, Sherman Pritchard, C. W. Finley, Emmett Fairfax and Bob Curtis. Another 6 will be tested for Olen Monsees and William Lowrance before this is in print.

Charles Van Dyne and Norman Peters are going ahead with their water management works. Recently they built 2 ponds each of which will provide water for 2 pastures. New terraces have been built to provide protection from erosion on a 5 acre pasture and these same terraces will help supply water for the larger of the 2 ponds. An outlet started last fall was recently completed too.

Over 2 miles of terraces were recently completed on the E. P. Schupp farm by a terracing contractor.

The April dinner for the Balanced Farming Families was attended by 37 folks representing 11 families. The dinner was held Monday night April 23rd at the 5th Street Methodist Church. During the evening 2 pictures were shown, "My Father's House" and "What is a Farm Worth."

Patrol Searches For Chinese

A U. S. border patrol moves out in search of attacking Chinese forces. The troops are filing past the exact spot where the Korean war began June 25, 1950, when North Korean troops crossed the 38th parallel in their attack on the Republic of Korea. (Exclusive NEA Telephoto by Staff Photographer Bert Ashworth).

Salvage Begins in Crash Area

While a navy blimp soars overhead a U. S. Navy craft, including a derrick, work on salvaging the Cuban airliner which collided in mid-air with a navy training plane near Key West, Fla. Thirty-nine persons aboard the airliner were killed, while 4 occupants of the trainer also died.

A North Korean Talks

A stringy bearded North Korean, an American cigarette between gnarled fingers, talks with gestures to a marine patrol which flushed him out of the hills in North Korea while advancing ahead of tanks. He seems eager to tell his captors all he knows about the Chinese Communists who shortly were to unleash the fury of their spring offensive. (U.S. NAVY PHOTO via AP WIREPHOTO)

The Firing Line

Infantrymen of the 187th regiment fire at enemy located 50 yards in front and 30 feet above them at Munsan, north of Seoul, Korea. This picture, just released by the U.S. Army, was made when Allied troops were on the offensive in the area. Fierce fighting took place in this area as U.S. forces continued to fight a stubborn delaying action April 27. (AP WIREPHOTO)
